

We are starting the FRESHHH2015 game for students !

- total prize money Euro 20,000
- the possibility of a free place in our “Growww 2015” Fresh Graduate Programme !

The freshhh2014 competition is designed for university and college students. All 3-members teams must be students currently enrolled in a university. PhD students are allowed to participate in the competition as well. The tasks will focus on the oil and gas industry.

Your team will manage a virtual oil company. Your decisions have to base on technical knowledge. However, as in real life the technical knowledge is not enough for a success management, you have to consider your decisions from business point of view.

Playing the MOL Tycoon you will build up a new oil corporation from the beginning. You will decide on research and development projects to find rich reservoirs, build refinery for different products and find the best product portfolio to gain profit.

The game starts in FreshhhLand (FreshhhField), where you are beginner oil entrepreneurs. The oil industry (as your firm too) is facing great opportunities in the industrial and technical development.

You have one working oil rig on a field that has further promising research possibilities. The exploration of the whole field is up to you, and based on the new rigs you can develop your company's downstream division and so on...
